

COMMUNICATION STUDIES GRADUATE COURSE ROTATION

as of June 19, 2007

PROPOSED OFFERINGS:

Check with department office for updates or changes after each semester Schedule of Classes is printed.

F 2007	S 2008	F 2008	S 2009	F 2009	S 2010	F 2010	S 2011	F 2011	S 2012
201	200	200	201	200	201	200	201	200	201
206	202	202	211	202	207	202	209	202	212
209	205	213	219	212	215	206	217	205	213
210	208	216	221	222	230	210	221	208	216
222	217	222	298	228	298	222	298	222	298
	221

Course Titles:

- COMS 200 Introduction to Graduate Study
- COMS 201 Communication Theory
- COMS 202 Research Methods in Communication Studies
- COMS 205 Seminar in Telecommunication Innovation
- COMS 206 Organizational Communication
- COMS 207 Dyadic Communication
- COMS 208 Communication and National Development
- COMS 209 Communication and Social Change
- COMS 210 Seminar in Mass Communication
- COMS 211 Electronic Media and American Culture
- COMS 212 Seminar in Small Group Communication
- COMS 213 Seminar in Criticism
- COMS 215 Communication and Public Opinion
- COMS 216 Seminar on Contemporary Issues in Intercultural Communication
- COMS 217 Assessment of Communication Behavior in Organizations
- COMS 219 Conflict Resolution
- COMS 221 Instructional Communication Theory
- COMS 222 Instructional Communication Practicum
- COMS 228 Corporate Advocacy and Public Policy
- COMS 230 Computer-Mediated Communication
- COMS 285 Practicum for Teaching Associates in Communication Studies
- COMS 295 Internship in Communication Studies
- COMS 297 Directed Study and Comprehensive Examination
- COMS 298 Special Course
- COMS 299 Special Problems